The Joe Niekro Foundation and Southwest General are teaming up to bring support to those who have been affected by an ischemic stroke, brain aneurysm, arteriovenous malformation (AVM), and/or hemorrhagic stroke. The foundation currently has over 40 support groups across the U.S. and Canada and is excited to expand its efforts at Southwest General. The support group is also open to family members and friends. For more information about Southwest General, visit www.swgeneral.com

About the Joe Niekro Foundation: The Joe Niekro Foundation (JNF) was founded in 2007 by Natalie Niekro after her father and Houston Astros baseball player, Joe Niekro, passed away from a brain aneurysm. After experiencing the loss of her father and seeing that there was virtually no support in the community for this condition, Natalie started JNF not only to spread awareness but also to help those who were affected by brain aneurysm. The foundation later expanded to include AVMs and hemorrhagic strokes as the conditions are closely aligned.
